

I would be honored to review your book, or a book written by someone you represent. I welcome most genres—sorry, I’m not a horror fan—but remember, the theme of this site is Books Uplift. As you can see, I write fun, positive, and quirky personalized reviews that honor the author’s work and entice readers to pick up a copy.

CHECKLIST AND PROCEDURES FOR BOOKS UPLIFT BOOK REVIEWS

___ You understand that I receive books daily from authors, agents, publishers, and colleagues, and books I’ve acquired myself, averaging around 25 books to read each month. Lucky me! But the downside is that it MAY take 8-12 months until a book review goes live.

___ You understand I don’t write reviews on Amazon, Goodreads, etc., but only on Books Uplift. However, feel free to repost and share the review wherever you like.

___ You understand that while I read every book I receive, I don’t review all of them. This isn’t because your book isn’t fabulous; it may just not be one I can review, or it may not be right for this site. I DO support you as an author, but not all books are fit for this site, so please don’t send email after email asking about your book review. If your book is chosen for review, it will be a positive review.

___ You understand/agree to send an email “Request for Review” along with your e-book gifted from Amazon, Barnes and Noble, Kindle Unlimited, or NetGalley ONLY—NO PDFS. If you are a publisher, agent, or publicist, you know I love a hard copy (Galleys are fine), and probably have my address:) So, feel free to send them my way!

___ You’ve included a high-resolution cover image to accompany your book with photo credit.

___ You agree to share the book review when it goes live on social media and will credit Books Uplift and link the post back to Books Uplift.

___ You agree to send me your email address and social media links for tagging along with the book.

___ You understand/agree there is no compensation for reviews, posts, etc. on Books Uplift.

___ You understand/agree that you will be included in my newsletter unless specifically requested otherwise.

___ You understand/agree that content from this review may be repurposed in various other articles.

Thank you for uplifting all of us through your books, Kimberly
